

Saturday 10th June

An Existential Breakfast

followed by a lecture from

Colin Cameron

Northumbria University:

Existentialism – What on Earth is that?

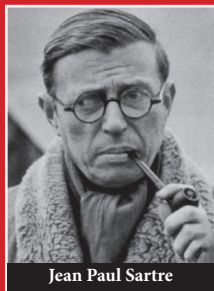

£10 (inclusive of breakfast)

The Boatyard 8.30 am

Savour the culinary delights of one or the two breakfasts (you choose) once enjoyed daily at the Parisian Cafe de Flore by famous existentialists Jean-Paul Sartre and his mistress Simone de Beauvoir. One of Sartre's books, Iron in The Soul gave us our festival title. Breakfast (poached eggs on toast or Welsh rarebit and Worcester sauce, plus of course strong coffee) is followed by an entertaining and informative talk by Dr Colin Cameron on one of the great mysteries of the universe, the other mystery being what happens to the second sock in the washing machine. Time allowed for questions. Places are limited and booking ahead is essential.

Colin Cameron

Jean Paul Sartre

Simone de Beauvoir

Bookmaking workshop

with Bridget Yhearm

Val Clark room

Cullercoats Community Centre

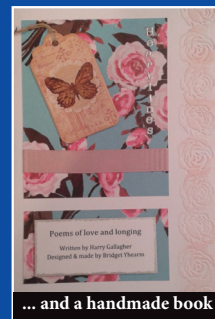

10am–12 noon £15

Using your own poetry, within two hours you can create a beautifully illustrated handmade book which you can then take away and treasure .

Places are limited to six people and advance booking is essential. Bridget Yhearm needs to have copies of the poems before the day itself. Details when booking. The price includes all materials and refreshments. Bridget is the founder of Honeybridge House.

Bridget Yhearm

This festival is brought to you by IRON Press who have been publishing fine literary books for 44 years, almost all that time in Cullercoats. The unique IRON House in Marden Terrace is opened up on Heritage Open Days for a free Psychedelic Perambulation. Check out our book list online @ <www.ironpress.co.uk>.

IRON Press Tel: 0191 2531901

